COME, RUSH TO THE RESCUE.

BY DAVID PAUL BROWN.

Come, rush to the rescue! the Union's in danger!
The rebels and traitors are thirsting for blood!
The home of our youth is the spoil of the stranger,
And carnage exults where our sires once stood.

Then rush to the rescue! arouse from your slumbers!
The shades of your fathers appeal for your aid;
Let the traitors advance with their rash levied numbers—
True patriots and freemen are never dismayed.

The foe is before us; march onward to greet them;
Let them boast as they may, they but dig their own graves;
The brave and the just are still eager to meet them,
And teach them the difference 'twixt freemen and slaves.

Let them scourge their poor bondsmen and talk of their glory—
Inhuman, remorseless, conceited and vain!
When they grapple with heroes, they'll soon learn the story
That themselves are the objects of scorn and disdain!

Come on, then, your tattered palmetto displaying,
Your golden pretensions will soon change to brass;
We know that your roaring is nothing but braying;
That the skin of the lion disguises the ass.

You have palsied the arm often raised to defend you—
Invaded the Union you've sworn to maintain;
You're outraged the laws that were made to befriend you,
And wounded the bosom that yearned to sustain.

What, then, are the evils that move your displeasure?
What plea can you urge for this fratricide strife?
Have we captured your forts? Have we squandered your treasure?
Have we plotted your death, or embittered your life?

Oh! search your dark thoughts! and you'll find that the spirit
Of hatred, revenge, low ambition and pride
Impels you to sacrifice all you inherit—
All your brave sires lived for, and for which they died.

Select Miscellany.

AN EXAMPLE FOR LANDLORDS.

TO WHICH IS APPENDED SOME EXCELLENT ADVICE TO HUSBANDS AND FATHERS.

BY MRS. E. B. DUFFEY.

"Well Mary," said Mr Early to his wife, as he came in one cold blustering afternoon in last December, and drew near the ruddy coal fire; well Mary, not such a bad day in the way of business after-all." and he threw off his snow sprinkled overcoat, laying it down on the snug looking lounge his wife had drawn before the fire for his own accommodation, while the snowy particles fell in a shower over the warm cushion.

"How, John?" replied his wife, as she looked up with a cheery smile.

"This is rent-day, you know, and collecting rent is not always a prosperous business. It's like pulling a tooth to get money from some people. Now there's old Ruggles, he gives the money as grudgingly as though he wasn't able to pay three times the amount, which I know he is.—And Joe Winch, I suppose he did have a hard time to raise it, but he made quite as hard a job of paying it."

"O never mind, husband, I hope you weren't hard on him; work is dull, you know, and money difficult to get."

"I acknowledge the truth of the concluding portion of your remark; money is difficult to get, even when it is honestly due; and so I found it to-day. But I succeeded tolerably after all. Even the widow Webb paid to the last cent and that was more than I hoped for.

"Oh, John?" said his wife in a deprecatory tone.

Mr. Early seemed to wince a little under the implied reproof, and so said, apparently in self-justification.

"Why Mary, you know business is business, and why shouldn't she pay her rent as well as any person else?

Now, Mr Early was not, by any means, naturally a hard hearted man. Yet fortune had placed him in the position of landlord; and between tenants that couldn't pay, and tenants that wouldn't pay, he had finally been drilled into an outward seeming of hardness. Whenever he anticipated an uncommon difficulty in the discharge of his duties, he repeated to himself the old maxim that "business is business," and thus steeled himself to his task.

Yet his wife knew that within this tough shell, there was a soft kernel of a heart, for she had more than once found it; and so, after a short time of silence and reflection on her part, she resolved to try if she could not reach it again.

"John," said she, "how much was her rent?"

"Poh! nothing; don't trouble yourself about that. Why it wasn't as much as that last new silk of yours cost, and you know you teazed me into buying that, saying the sum was such a trifle.

"Well how much was it?" persisted Mrs Early.

"If you must know, the quarters rent amounted to fifteen dollars; and she paid it too, without a word of grumbling."

"It is a small sum to you and to me, I know; but do you not think she must have struggled hard to raise it?

"Business is business, you know, and it is not in my way to think how the money is raised, so that it is raised."

"Oh, John!" again repeated his wife. There was a kind of magic in these words. They possessed a power over him which she was not aware of, and he felt.

"Well, never mind Mary, don't trouble yourself about it. It's all over now and can't be helped. Only if you say so I won't be quite so hard next time."

"I do say so John," said she, rising with a woman-like instinct, and seating herself beside him, feeling that if she wished to gain her point (and she had, in the few moments of reflection, resolved upon one,) she must make use of a wife's best arguments.

"There," said she, as she wound her fingers caressingly in his hair. "I know you didn't mean to be exacting, but you were so, after all. I heard only a day or two ago, that Mrs Webb and her daughter had had a hard time to get along this fall. Their only dependence for support is their needle, and you know that is a very slender one. Now they have both overworked themselves to raise this very money that you have received to-day, and Kate has been sick, and fears are entertained that she will go into a decline."

"So bad as that! I did not know it."

"I know you didn't. For I am sure you have too good a heart to drive a poor girl into her grave, and leave a widowed mother friendless and alone in the world, just for the sake of a few dollars, which you would never miss if you did not have. Now do you not think you ought to make amends in some way for your thoughtless act of cruelty?"

"Why yes, if I only knew how. If you choose you can take the money back again, and tell them I wouldn't have been in such a hurry about the rent, if I had known just how the case stood.

"Well, give it to me. My! how full your pocket-book is!" she exclaimed in affected wonder, as he unrolled the ponderous portefueille, stuffed and crammed with notes and silver. "Thank you. But so long as you have your money out, you may as well give me a little more at once; it will save me the trouble of asking you again. There don't scowl so. It's only a trifle I want. Not so much as those furs will cost that you are going to buy me for a Christmas present."

"Furs! Whew! I hadn't heard of them before!"

"Oh I know you havn't yet," she replied coaxingly, "but you will between now and Christmas—unless you give me what money I want now. Let me see; the furs you are going to buy me will cost seventy-five dollars; but I'll let you off until next winter if you will give me Oh! don't stare so—thirty-five dollars now."

"Thirty-five dollars! what in——"

"Never mind the exclamations now," said she, with a roguish smile, laying her hand (and a pretty one it was too) over his mouth. "Count out the money first and I'll give you leave to express your astonishment afterwards."

"Tell me first what you want it for," said Mr. Early as soon as his speech was restored to him, taking advantage of a husband's prerogative, a right established by precedent at least, of questioning in such matters.

"Tell you what I want it for? Oh of course I will. I am going to invest it for you. It will bring you in a hundred per cent., and more too, just as long as Mrs. Webb is a tenant of yours."

"How—what do you mean?"

"Why, don't you see, there's two tens there in that roll, and plenty of fives?"—holding out the same pretty hand that had so unceremoniously dammed up the river of speech flowing from her husband's mouth but a moment before—only thirty-five dollars, you know, which, with the fifteen I've got, will make fifty in all; and I am going to provide Mrs. Webb and Catharine the means of paying their rent easily every quarter, as soon as it is due. To be serious—I have told you that they depend on sewing for a living, and now that sewing-machines have thrown seamstresses almost entirely out of business; it is very hard for two poor women with delicate health, to scrape together sixty dollars every year to pay their rent with, and provide themselves the necessaries of life besides—so I am going to buy them such an article as that," said she, pointing to a splendid sewing-machine that made a conspicuous article of room furniture—"which some kind friend—(not you, of course; was it really you, though? I never suspected anything half so sensible of you)—sent me last New Year, and a more acceptable present I never received; and somebody never did and never will make a better investment of his money than that—unless he thinks fit to give me the thirty-five dollars I want now. Don't you see, how with that in the house, I have already saved you more than it cost, and I still have found plenty of time to fold my hands besides? And with such a machine, Mrs. Webb and Kate could soon make themselves comparatively independent."

"Well, well, Mary, when a man is defeated by his own wife, he doesn't exactly like, for his dignity's sake to acknowledge it. It's equivalent to letting her wear the—you know what."

"Oh! never mind your dignity. I was never particularly impressed by it; and as for wearing the articles of which you speak, any smart wife manages to do that anyhow, just as I do now when you give me that—ten and ten are twenty, and five are twenty-five, and ten are thirty-five, and fifteen I have already makes fifty.—That's all right, and you are a dear good husband.

The pretty, delicate hand closed over the coveted treasure, and the full, rosy lips performed their appropriate office, and it was hard to tell which seemed to be best satisfied—husband or wife.

Before many days went by, there was a joyful surprise at the unpretending dwelling of the Widow Webb and her daughter. Catharine, a delicate girl of eighteen or thereabouts, seemed pale and emaciated from recent illness, but at the sight of the splendid Wheeler & Wilson sewing-machine—that at first she could not believe but had been left there by mistake, until she had re-read more than once the accompanying card, with her own name in full and the number of her residence upon it—the blood danced joyfully from her heart up to her cheeks, and tingled in her very finger-ends at the prospect of better days in store for them.

At first they could obtain no clue to their kind benefactors; but the truth finally leaked out. And if ever gratitude swelled the hearts of human beings, it did theirs towards their landlord, whom they had hitherto considered so harsh and unrelenting, and to his pretty, kind-hearted wife.

When next rent-day came, Mr. Early had not to call upon Mrs. Webb for his money. It was promptly brought to him, and was paid so cheerfully, that he jocosely remarked to his wife that he had half a mind to try the effect of a "Wheeler & Wilson" on each of his tenants, to see if it would have an equally good effect.—"Only, Othello-like," said he, "I should find my occupation gone, and would have nothing to do but sit over the fire—"

"And make love to me," interposed his wife.

"And wait for the money to come to me," contined Mr. Early, "while I lose my business habits entirely."—Catholic Herald & Visitor.

The machines referred to above are sold by R. A. O. Kerr, who is the agent for this county.

A MIXED REGIMENT.—When the Tiger Rifles, who played such havoc with Lincoln's "Pet Lambs," at Manassas, on the memorable 21st of July, passed through this city, we thought that we had seen a specimen of the roughest and most ferocious set of men on earth; but, when we speak of the Tenth Louisiana Regiment, of New Orleans, which passed through this city on Sunday, language is inadequate to give a description, composed as it was of English, French, Germans, Dutch, Italians, Sicilians, Spaniards, Portuguese, Swiss, Mexicans, Indians and Creoles, who, in their jabbering, seemed to represent a second Babel. The commander, together with many other officers, are veterans who served throughout the Crimean war. The commands, given in French, Dutch, Spanish or something else, which we could not exactly understand, seemed to be executed with promptness and a remarkable degree of precision. The Mexicans, particularly, were objects of much curiosity with our citizens, most of whom had never seen one before.—Lynchburg Virginian.

A SENTINEL'S REMONSTRANCE.—At one of our camps last week, a soldeir who was on guard during the night, reported to the captain in the morning that "he was abused by a fellow because he would not let him pass." "Well," said the captain, what did you do?" "Do! why I remonstrated with him." "And to what effect? "Well, I don't know to what effect, but the barrel of my gun is bent."

☞ Cyrus, the conqueror of Babylon, of whom we read in the Bible, was once asked what was the first thing he learned. "To tell the truth, was the reply."

☞ A dandy observed that he had put a plate of brass on his boots to keep him upright. "Well-balanced, by jing," said a Dutchman; brass at both ends."

THE FIRING AT FORTS CLARK AND HATTERAS.

From a graphic and thrilling account of the Fort Hatteras bombardment, we quote as follows:

At 10 o'clock the Wabash fired the first gun, the eleven-inch shell striking near the battery and bursting with tremendous force. The battery, which was of sand, covered with turf, and mounting five long thirty-two's, instantly returned the fire, but the shot fell short. The "Minnesota" and "Cumberland" immediately opened and rained nine and eleven-inch shells in and about it. The fire was terrific, and soon the battery's responses were few and far between, save when the frigates suspended fire to get a new position, and then the enemy's fire was most spirited. No damage was sustained by our ships, and when they again took their position the cannonading was intensely hot, the shells dropping in the enemy's works, or falling on the ramparts, exploding in death-dealing fragments and carrying death and destruction with them. The small wooden structures about the forts were torn and perforated with flying shells.

At 11 o'clock the immense flag-staff was shot away, and the rebel flag came down, but their fire was still continued. At 12 o'clock the Susquehanna steamed in, and, dropping her boats astern, opened an effective fire. The cannonading on our part was incessant, and the air was alive with the hum and explosion of flying shells; but the enemy did not return the fire with any regularity, the battery being too hot for them, from the explosion of shells that dropped at the rate of above half a dozen a minute.

The enemy ceased firing a little before two, and, after a few more shells had been thrown in, the Commodore signalized to cease firing. The troops had meantime advanced to within a short distance of the fort, and, before we ceased firing some of our men got in and raised the Stars and Stripes. The place was too hot for the men, but the flag was left waving. Coxswain Benjamin Sweares, of the Pawnee's first cutter, stood for some time on the ramparts waving the flag amid a flight of shells. When the firing ceased, the fort was occupied in force, and held afterwards.

The "Monticello" had proceeded ahead of the land force, to protect them, and had reached the Inlet, when a large fort, of an octagon shape, to the rear and right of the small battery, mounting ten thirty-twos and four eight-inch guns, which had till then been silent, opened on her with eight guns, at short range. At the same instant she got aground and stuck fast, the enemy pouring in a fire hot and heavy, to which the "Monticello" replied sharply with shell. For fifty minutes she held her own, and finally getting off the ground she came out, having been shot through and through by seven eight-inch shell, one going below the water-line. She fired fifty-five shell in fifty minutes, and partially silenced the battery. At dusk she withdrew for repairs, with one or two men slightly bruised, but none killed or otherwise injured.

The escape of the vessel and crew was miraculous. Until this time we supposed the day was ours, but the unexpected opening of the large battery rather changed the aspect of affairs. Things did not look cheerful at dark. We had men ashore who were probably in need of provisions, and in case of a night attack no assistance could be sent them from the "Harriet Lane." As we lay close in shore we saw the bright bivouac-fires on the beach, with groups of men about them. The night passed without an alarm, the enemy, as we have since learned, lying on their arms all night, expecting an attack.

At early daybreak on Thursday the men went to quarters in the fleet, and at a quarter past eight, the vessels having borne down nearer than the previous day's position, the action began, the "Susquehanna" opening the day's work by a shell from one of the eleven-inch guns. The "Minnesota" and "Wabash" joined in immediately, and again the hum of shell and their explosion were heard. They fired nearly half an hour before the battery responded, when it answered briskly. Our fire was more correct than on the previous day. The range had been obtained, and nearly every shot went into the battery, throwing up clouds of sand and exploding with terrific effect.

At twenty-five minutes past ten the "Harriet Lane" opened fire, and soon after the "Cumberland" came in from the offing and joined in the attack. The "Harriet Lane," with her rifled guns, did good execution—several projectiles from the eight inch shell going into the battery and one going directly through the ramparts. The fire was so hot that all of the enemy that could do so got into a bomb-proof in the middle of the battery.

Finally, at five minutes past eleven, A. M., an eleven-inch shell having pierced the bomb-proof through a ventilator and exploded inside, near the magazine, the enemy gave up the fight and raised over the ramparts a white flag. We immediately ceased firing. Gen. Butler went into the Inlet and landed at the fort and demanded an unconditional surrender.

CHEAP RENTS—A good story is told in Chicago about rents. A party leased a fine house to a merchant in good business at $1,200 a year. The panic and war came on. Tenant informs landlord he cannot pay such a rent. "What can you afford to pay?" "Not over half that sum." "Very well you shall have it for $600." Towards the end of the quarter, tenant informs the landlord that he cannot pay that. "What can you pay now?"—"Nothing, I am doing no business."—"Very well, I want my house taken care of, and you may stay without rent." A short time after, in passing by the house, he found the tenant moving his furniture and asked what that was for? "Why you don't think I am such a fool as to stay in that house, when I found a much better one for nothing.

CONGRESSMAN ELY.—The Richmond correspondent of the Mobile News sends the following to that paper:

One old rascal here, Ely, has the impudence to send his cards out to some of our Congressmen and others, whom he used to know in better days, and to request them to visit him; but I believe they do not know his honor at this time! This fellow stepped up to a gentleman who visited the prison the other day, and put out his hand for a friendly grasp and recognition, but he was disappointed. "I knew you once, sir; but I do not know you now, nor recognise you as a gentleman."

UNMARRIED LADIES.—The single state is no diminution of the beauties and the utilities of the female character; on the contrary, our present life would lose many of the comforts, and much likewise, of what is absolutely essential to the well being of every part of society, and even of the private home, without the unmarried female. The single woman is as important an element of social and private happiness as the married woman. The utilities of each are different; but it is vulgar nonsense, unworthy of manly feeling and discreditable to every just one, to depreciate the unmarried condition.

SEND YOUR CHILD TO BED HAPPY.—Whatever cares press, give it a warm good-night kiss as it goes to its pillow.—The memory of this, in the stormy years which fate may have in store for the little one, will be like Bethlehem's star to the bewildered shepherds. "My father—my mother loved me!" Fate cannot take away that heart-balm. Lips parched with the world's fever will become dewy again at this thrill of youthful memories. Kiss your little child before it goes to sleep.

A PATRIOTIC STATE AND PEOPLE.—Indiana has about 30,000 troops in the war and preparing for the field, not including any of the three-months troops. [redacted] one town of Martin county, with only 1,375 inhabitants, seven companies have been raised. In another, a gentleman worth only $40,000 has expended $10,000 in cash for the families of volunteers, and is willing to give all to the cause.—In another, a father of fifteen children has enlisted with his eldest son for the war.

☞ The following is a pretty good take-off on the fulsome style of some of our public speakers:

A negro orator thus concludes an account of the death of a colored brother: "De last word dat he was heard to say, de last word he was noticed to utter, de last word he eber pronounced, de last syllable he heabed, de last idea he eber ejaculated; yes, my breddern, de berry last word he eber was known to breve forth, sound or articulate, was 'Glory?'"

☞ A western clergyman, in presenting a revolver to a volunteer, said:—"If you get into a tigh, place and have to use it, ask God's blessing if you have time, but be sure and not let your enemy get the start of you. You can say amen after you shoot."

☞ "Is it very sickly here?" asked a son of the Emerald Isle, the other day, of a brother Irishman. "Yis; a great many have died here this year who niver died before," was the truthful reply.

☞ "What is the reason that your wife and you always disagree?" asked one Irishman of another. "Because we are both of one mind—she wants to be master, and so do I."

☞ The rebels are fond of comparing themselves with the patriots of Seventy-six. There is this difference—they are fighting against what the men of Seventy-six fought for.

☞ Muggins says—"It's no use in marrying now, as there is no knowing how long you may remain united." He is opposed to coercion.

☞ To be ahead of time—Carry your watch behind you.

The Huntingdon Camp.

While at Huntingdon, on Saturday last, we availed ourself of an invitation extended by Captain Bell and Dr. Forney, to ride out to the camp of instruction located near that place, to be under the command of Gen. James. The site selected could hardly be better adapted for the purpose. It is on the farm of Mr. Shoemaker, near the Warm Springs, and about two and a half miles from the town of Huntingdon. It is a large clover field which has a slight descent on three sides from the centre, thus securing dry quarters and drill-ground at all times. There are several springs of most excellent water just at the edge of the field. If we were going into the army we could not desire a more pleasant place in which to receive instruction. Gen. James is said to be well qualified for the position assigned him, having had considerable military experience. Two companies, viz: Captain Crowther's, from Tyrone, and Capt. Flem. Holliday's were in camp, and some four or five more were expected on Monday and Tuesday. Among the recruits we found our jovial friend Bob Hopkins, who is playing the part of Orderly Sergeant in Capt. Crowther's company. Bob is a "regular brick," and there will be fun in the camp so long as he is about—especially when he assumes the part of a pulpit orator. Dr. Forney, the Surgeon of the camp, is an affable gentleman, well skilled in his profession, of large experience in camp life, and will be popular with the soldiers. We witnessed his first surgical operation in his new position; it was that of bandaging the finger (or what was left of a finger) of one of the recruits. Said recruit had been been out practising with a pistol, and in putting a cap on it had caught it in such a manner that his little finger came over the muzzle, and after adjusting the cap the hammer slipped from under his thumb, causing it to explode—the bullet cutting the finger clean off below the second joint. Bought wit is said to be the best, and the recruit will evidently find it so if he has not paid too dearly for it. We learned, previous to leaving Huntingdon, that Gen. James had styled the camp "Camp Crossman," by which name it will hereafter be known.

The Nominees.

The Peoples' Party Convention, which met last week, placed a full ticket in the field. We are not in favor of party nominations at this time, nevertheless, since they have been made, we shall speak of them as we find them.

The nominee for Sheriff, Samuel McCamant, is, we believe, quite as popular and well qualified to fill the office, as any other candidate before the convention.—We say this with all due deference to his competitors, many of whom are, no doubt, equally as capable of filling the position. Mr. M. has merited this favor at the hands of his party, and since we know him to be a man of irreproachable character, perfect responsibility and resolute disposition, we feel warranted in saying that if he should be elected he will serve the county faithfully.

Mr. Roller was re-nominated by acclamation, for the Legislature. He made a good representative last winter, serving his constituents acceptably so far as we know, and to have supplanted him would not have been respectable treatment. We can see no necessity for a change in the representative of Blair county in the Legislature, and presume that Mr. R. will be returned.

With the other candidates we are unacquainted, and therefore will not speak of them.

☞ The carelessness in the use of fire-arms by our troops is most astonishing. Since the commencement of the war we think that not less than three hundred men have been killed or severely wounded by the accidental discharge of fire-arms in the hands of real or amateur soldiers. The apparent incredulity that persons, who are handling guns, feel to their destructive effects is amazing.

The News.

The latest advices from Washington show the boldness of the rebels and the desperation of their cause. They seem determined to bring on a collision with the Federal forces but they want to make the latter the attacking party. They have thrown up fortifications and erected masked batteries along all the woods leading from Washington toward Manassas, and they are anxious to get our men in among them. In this we think they will be disappointed. While it is certain that they cannot reach the city by any forward movement they may make, and that they would be defeated in an open engagement, we think it is the policy of the Administration and the commanders of our army to let them alone in their fastnesses for the present, knowing that delay, and attacks upon the seaboard of the seceded States, must consume and distract the army now at Manassas.

The forts at Cape Hatteras have been supplied with men, provisions and munitions of war, sufficient to enable the Government forces to hold them against any assault, and it is cheering to know that the loyal citizens of North Carolina are flocking to the standard of the Union. It is reported and believed that ten regiments from that State mustered into the service of the Southern Confederacy have been called home from Manassas.

The Union troops have crossed over into Kentucky, simultaneous with the advance of the rebels into the Southern part of the State. Our forces occupy Paducah.

Fourteen females have been arrested and are now held as prisoners at Washington. Their sex no longer gives them liberty to afford aid and comfort to the enemy. Others will be arrested shortly.

Military movements at Washington are now conducted so quietly that even the citizens of that place do not know when or how many troops arrive daily.

The State election in Maine has resulted in the election of Washburn, Republican, for Governor. The vote stood Washburn 7,191; Jameson,(War Democrat)3,290; Dana,(Peace Democrat)1,387.

Gen. Rosencranz is now advancing through Virginia, and shining news may soon be expected from his command.

Late reports from Missouri say that a fight had taken place between Lane's Kansas regiment and a body of rebels under Gen. Rains, in which the latter was completely routed with a heavy loss, and Gen. Rains taken prisoner.

ACCIDENT ON THE NORTHERN CENTRAL R. R.—Last Sunday afternoon an accident occurred on the Northern Central Railroad, in the vicinity of Cockeysville, which resulted in the death of four New York volunteers and the wounding of three others. The accident, it appears, was caused by the breaking of the axle of one of the cars which careened over and two horses fell out and rolled on to the track. The three cars immediately following had every truck swept from under them. The train was soon stopped and several soldiers rushed forward in search of the engineer, declaring that it was his fault and they would kill him. The engineer directed them to the wreck, and detaching the locomotive from the train, started toward Baltimore. The soldiers discovering this, fired two shots after him one ball passing through the window of the engine house, and the other through the hat of the fireman. The engineer and fireman were arrested and placed in jail on their arrival at Baltimore. All who were killed or injured were standing on the platform of the cars, while those inside escaped unhurt. An investigation of the affair was had, when it was shown that the breaking of the axle was beyond the control of the engineer and that the speed of the train was only twenty-one and two-tenths miles per hour, the ordinary speed of passenger trains.

INFAMOUS OUTRAGE IN MISSOURI.—On the 3d inst., a passenger train on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad in Missouri, was thrown into the Platte River, by the timbers on the east end of the bridge having been burned so as to give way when the train reached that portion. The entire train went down, and only one man on the train, the baggage-master, escaped unhurt. Some sixty persons were more or less injured, and quite a number were killed. The bridge was burned by some of the rebels in that country. Could any punishment be severe enough for such inhuman conduct? Among those who were killed and injured were a number of women and children.

☞ We see by the Blairsville papers that the managers of the Conemaugh Valley Agricultual Society have agreed to change the time of holding their Fair this season to the 9th, 10th and 11th of October. This will come just one week later than the Indiana County Agricultural Society Fair, and will afford an opportunity to attend both Fairs.

Religious Patriotism.

We publish with pleasure the following resolutions passed by the Lutheran Synod which was in session in this place last week. They breathe the spirit of true patriotism and devotion to the interests of religion and humanity. Coming from the source they do, they are entitled to more than ordinary consideration, and will have greater weight than those passed by assemblages of the people. They show us that in the defence now made against a most unholy crusade on the rights and liberties of a free people, religiously as well as politically considered, the sympathies and prayers of the ministers of God are on the side of the Union, and we know that the "prayer of the righteous availeth much." Here are the resolutions:

Your Committee, appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of this Synod in regard to the present war, and to whom was referred the letter of Rev. G. M. Pile, wherein he gives in excuse for his non-attendance that he has enlisted in the army, would report the following:—

WHEREAS, We hold the cause of our country in this hour of its trial to be the cause of God—the cause not of this nation alone, but of Christian progress and liberty throughout the world, embodying what Divine Providence has wrought, through the ages, for the advancement and blessings of the race; AND WHEREAS, On the other hand, we regard this rebellion as most unjustifiable and wicked—as an attempt to destroy the glorious fabric of Constitutional and Christian liberty, reared by the toils and sacrifices of our fathers, whose precious blessings we have enjoyed for nearly a hundred years, and whose growing glory has awed tyrants and cheered the faith of those who believe in the inalienable rights of men; Therefore,

Resolved, That the course of the Government against this rebellion is nothing more than it is called to do, by the voice of God in his written word, as well as by the voice of humanity, speaking through its most truthful oracles.

Resolved, That we deem it the duty of the Church openly to advocate the cause of the Government, and to aid it by its effectual, fervent prayers.

Resolved, That we highly approve the appointment, by the President of the United States, of a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer, and earnestly recommend to our people the strict observance of that day.

Resolved, That regarding these things thus, and knowing that Bro. Pile is unable to endure the pulpit labors of the Ministry, we cannot disapprove his course.

Respectfully submitted,
C. L EHRENFELT,
LLOYD KNIGHT,
C. LOWE.

☞ We copy the following communication, dated Relay House, August 27th, from the Inquirer, published at Wilmington, Del:—

Mr Editor:—Allow me, as an act of justice, to say a few words through your valuable sheet. For the past three weeks I have been sojourning here, and being constantly around the railroad I have been obliged to notice the movements of our railroad Government officers at this station. I am delighted here to say a favorable word of our old conductor, from the Pennsylvania Railroad company, J. J Weitzel, who, through his amiable disposition, and splendid qualifications, has made himself so popular throughout the entire State of Pennsylvania. Col. T. A. Scott, manager of Military Route, done well when he selected our worthy friend, Col. W., for the important duty of Government Dispatcher at the station. The station is a very important one, as there is but a single track between here and Washington, and as extras are constantly arriving it is very essential to have a practical man here. It requires the utmost vigilance on part of Col. W. to keep everything under good discipline. Day and night extra trains, freighted with soldiers and munitions of war, are arriving and are immediately dispatched by the Colonel—no better officer could have possibly been selected. In connection with Mr. C. Smith, acting Dispatcher for the B. & O. R. R., all works harmoniously. Through these two gentlemen business is certainly greatly facilitated. For my own especial edification I last week kept an account of troops dispatched to Washington by Col. Weitzel, and to my astonishment found that it foots up to 11,000.

Such men, Mr. Editor, are worthy of notice and I earnestly request that you will let the Col's friends know that he is still around with a kind word and smiling countenance for all. S.

CHEERING FROM KENTUCKY.—The late news from Kentucky gives us every reason to believe that she will wheel into line and come up fairly and squarely for the Union. A few days since the lower house of the Legislature decided, by a vote of 73 to 20 to raise the Stars and Stripes over the State Capitol. The Legislature stands 77 Union to 24 secesh. While we have but little confidence in Gov. Magoffin, believing that he is disloyal at heart, we still believe that he will be compelled to yield to the demands of the people of the State, or be supplanted. The State will undoubtedly raise its quota of troops for the Union, and a number of recruiting officers are now filling up companies.

UNION TICKET.—The Union State Convention of Ohio was held at Columbus on Thursday last. It was largely attended, and the union of the Democrats and Republicans was enthusiastically received. Hon. David Todd, the old war-horse of Democracy, was nominated for Governor, and Benjamin Stanton, Republican, for Lieutenant-Governor. The balance of the ticket was divided equally between the Democrats and Republicans.

☞ The Union county convention, of Huntingdon county, nominated a full ticket, by selecting, in regular order, from both parties. John Scott, Esq., of Huntingdon, was nominated for the Legislature. This is a good selection. Mr S. is one of the most able men in the interior of the State, and would make a useful member. Our cotemporary, J. A. Nash, of the Journal & American, was nominated for county Treasurer. We wish him success for "auld acquaintance sake."

A Voice from Old Kentucky.

If any man doubts the loyalty of a portion of the inhabitants of that noble old State, let him read the following resolutions passed at a meeting held at Newport, in that State, on the 2d inst., which was addressed by Hon. Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee:

Resolved, 1. The existing war was forced upon the country by the Disunionists of the South

2. As our fathers "pledged their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor" to the foundation of our Union, it is as little we, their sons, can do to make the same pledge to maintain and defend it.

3. In the language of General Jackson—"Our Union must, and, by the Eternal, shall be preserved."

4. The Mississippi river, its mouth and all its fountains, the country which lies between the Atlantic and Pacific, the lakes and the gulfs, must all belong to one and the same people; and that, too, under one Government of the United States; or, in our judgment, war, with all its solemn and untold horrors, will hang upon us and our children to the latest generation.

5 The Government which does not punish treason, and cannot suppress rebellion, is not worthy of the name.

6. On the subject of "sacred soil," we would say that the "soil" of Kentucky is only "sacred" when floated over by the Stars and Stripes; and as to "neutrality," with the highest respect to everybody, and intending no shock to delicate and sensitive nerves, we will say that "armed neutrality" is "armed nonsense."

7. Our Legislature, which meets to-day, should promptly meet the war tax of $800,000; should disband the State Guards; should refer the case of Governor Magoffin to the Committee on Treason; should resolve Breckinridge and Powell out of their seats; should furnish to the Government her quota of men; put ovr loyal men upon an impregnable war footing, and, tipping her proud hat to General Anderson, say to him—"Walk in, my own Old Sumpter."

8. We are for peace—every good Union man deprecating war—and we demand that this war shall cease at the earliest possible moment; that is to say, so soon as it can be obtained with American honor; so soon as all the rebels lay down their arms, and treason is properly punished, and our old flag floats over every foot of our soil. The last dodge of the secessionists in this city, for "peace," is a trap too transparent to catch even the weak and simple.

9 We welcome to our meeting our distinguished guest, the Hon. Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, now torn and sundered from his dear wife and sweet children by wicked and traitorous hands. We, Kentuckians, in his presence assembled, promise him that he shall be returned to their arms; we promise it here, under that pure shining heaven, by the sacred honor of Kentuckians, and by every drop of her rich Union blood.

RECAPTURE OF THE ESCAPED RHINOCEROS.—Dan Rice's rhinoceros, after enjoying his freedom for twelve days in a swamp near Lacrosse, on the Mississippi river, has been recaptured. The Lacrosse Democrat thus details the manner of his capture. "The brute" says our cotemporary, "came out of the water in the afternoon about five o'clock, and with careful step walked into Manger's cornfield, filled his capacious belly with corn, and on his way back got into the chain trap which had been set by Messrs. Potter, Wrightson, Munger, and Col. Preston, the agent of Mr. Rice, catching both fore feet securely fast. A rope was thrown around his neck, and by severe choking the monster was subdued and blind folded, when it at once gave up, and was led like a calf to this city, and caged for the time in Davis' stone stable. Col. Preston compensated each of the men who helped in his successful capture with two hundred dollars, and gave young Eggleson, who was hurt on saturday last, a thousand dollars in full for all damages, besides paying the bill of Dr. Cameron The monster will be taken to Milwaukee as soon as the cage can be finished, which will be on Tuesday next."

GENERAL M'CLELLAN'S WAR PREPARATIONS.—We learn from a private source, worthy of credence, says the Chicago Journal, that Gen. McClellan, on last Tuesday morning, had fifty-six batteries of artillery of six guns each, of various caliber, and about 150,000 men at and near Washington, and that this army will be increased to at least 200,000 men before the end of the present week. The organization and drill of these troops are going forward with industry and care, and the degree of discipline already apparent in every company, regiment and brigade, is in the highest degree creditable to the officers and the men, and promises great effectiveness in any future operations that may be undertaken against the enemy. The movements of troops, and every-thing connected with the army preparations, are carefully kept from public knowledge, but the facts above given—to state which can do no harm now, but will gratify public interest—may be relied upon, coming as they do, from one who knows whereof he speaks.

A GOOD IDEA.—The Governor of New Jersey has sent a commissioner to visit all the New Jersey regiments at the seat of war, and prevail upon the men to send their money home, either for their families or for safe keeping.—His plan is, to have the Chaplains go around a few days before pay-day, and get the men to say what amount shall go, and then be on hand to get the money from the paymaster. The whole amount is then sent to the Governor, and the men's orders on him are paid wherever the men reside. This is an excellent idea, and one which might be carried out with advantage by the authorities of our own State. We have no doubt whatever, that if steps like the above were taken with our troops, a large portion of their pay would every month find its way to their families. The Governor would do well to give the matter his attention, as the plan is one which must work well, and might be imitated with advantage by the different States having troops in the field.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A painful and sad gloom was cast over our community on last Saturday evening, on receipt of a telegram from Broad Top, announcing that Joseph H. Thompson of this borough had been fatally injured by a car running off the track on a switch-back leading to the mines. Several other persons were slightly injured at the same time. Mr. Thompson was severely cut and bruised, and lingered in great pain until about half past ten o'clock, when death kindly loosed the silver cord. The deceased was a returned volunteer, having served three months in the ranks of the Standing Stone Guards. He leaves a wife, three children and a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely end. May that God who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" be their freind in this sad hour of their affliction.—Huntingdon Journal.

THE MILITARY RAILROAD.—The average number of trains daily run over the road between Washington and Baltimore is now eighteen. So perfect is the system that, with the aid of the telegraph, all the stations are under the assisting superintendence of Thomas H. Canfield, that no accident whatever has occurred since it has been a military route. The capacity of the road is more than equal to the demands of the public service.

THE TOMAHAWK AND SCALPING KNIFE.—It appears to be a fact that the rebels have persuaded several of the more savage of the western Indian tribes to join them in their War against the Union. The Seminoles, Creeks, Camanches and several other Tribes, the rebel Journals declare, have become their allies, and are now being organized under Albert Pike, of Arknasas, and others to take the field against the Union men of the west.

Kansas is to be first invaded—her people massacred and scalped, and the country desolated by savage warfare—and these attrocities are to be extended into adjoining States and Territories.

The Tomahawk and the scalping knife are to be called into requisition by the leaders of a rebellion who have prided themselves upon their honor, chivalry and "nobility of manhood."—We are to have barbarian attrocities inaugurated equal in savage brutality to the Sepoy butcheries in India.

Our homes are to be destroyed by the merciless blood-hounds of the wilderness—our wives and children to be tomahawked and scalped—and the rich fields, the prosperous towns, the happy households of the west are to be swept away by the fury of incarnate fiends, thirsting for bloody horrors.

Is there a western man who still hesitates as to his duty in this crisis? If so, let him be warned by the exultant announcements of the southern Journals, that they have formed an alliance with the Indian savages, and will lead them into a barbarous and desolating crusade against our fire-sides.

The pressure that will finally force us all to appreciate and perform our duties, is becoming more irresistable every day.—Chicago Journal.

THE INCOME TAX.—As some misunderstanding continues to prevail with regard to the time when the act levying taxes on incomes goes into effect, it may be proper to state that it is the 1st of January next, not the 1st of April 1862, as the original draught of the bill provided.—Moreover, the tax is payable on incomes received during the present year. The forty-ninth section of the act contains this clause: "The tax herein provided shall be assessed upon the annual incomes of the persons hereinafter named for the year preceeding the time for assessing said tax, to wit, the year next preceeding the first of January, 1862." All persons, therefore, who, during the current year are in receipt of incomes exceeding eight hundred dollars a year, must pay their tax at the rate of three per cent. on the whole amount above that sum.

OUR SOLDIERS IN THE HANDS OF THE ENEMY.—A writer in the Savannah (Georgia) Republican asks the question—"How shall we dispose of the prisoners?" and answers it as follows: "Let the Quartermaster General of the Confederate States issue his proclamation, stating that the prisoners will be hired out to the highest bidder for some specified time, and in such number as the hirer may desire. I know of a gentleman in this city—a rice planter, who would gladly take two hundred of the Yankees on his plantation, to build up and mend the dams of his fields. He is more desirous of doing this, he says, as the Northern gazettes have long asserted that we can do without negro labor, and he is anxious of testing the question. One good black driver to every forty Yankees would insure good order and lively work among them."

KIT CARSON COMING WITH A REGIMENT.—The Washington correspondent of a New York paper states that when last heard from, Kit Carson, the Rocky Mountain Ranger, was busily engaged in raising a corps of mounted rangers, composed not of half breeds or savages, but of shrewd, practical trappers like himself, who have spent their lives on the prairies, and know of no enjoyment but that which comes of wild adventure and vicissitude. With these, Carson proposes coming eastward and offering his services to the General Government. He selects his men himself, and accepts of none unless qualified by long years of experience on the plains. They will be mounted on swift Mexican mustangs, and will be armed to the teeth with Colt's revolvers, bowie-knives and Sharpe's rifles.

A CHANGE OF SONG.—The Louisville Courier, a traitor paper, complains bitterly because its circulation has been stopped in St. Louis, whereat the Journal says:

"Ha! ha! ha! And so you have caught it yourself at last! When the Vigilance Committees of Memphis, Nashville, and all of the other principal Southern cities, suppressed The Louisville Journal within their respective limits—when they even established censorships over the Post Office, and refused to let our paper pass on to any points beyond them, you could see nothing wrong, no tyranny, no usurpation in the whole business. You thought it right. You chuckled. You laughed. You taunted. But now a cup of the same sort is put to your own lips, and—Lord! what a face you make! You ought to be ashamed of yourself."

A LONG TRAIN.—The Rochester Advertiser says: Yesterday the longest train of cars that was ever seen in this city, and probably the longest ever seen in the world, passed over the Central Railroad from the East. It was one mile and a quarter and thirty rods in length, and was drawn by five locomotives. Of course but few of the cars were loaded. They were bound to Buffalo, to be there loaded with western produce. The same paper states that the passenger trains on the road named are much heavier than they were a few days ago, and that indications of a heavy fall trade are everywhere apparent.

☞ The effect of our brilliant victory at Hatteras Inlet is daily becoming more and more perceptible. It has encouraged and reanimated the hearts of all loyal men, and foreshadowed the suppression of the great conspiracy; it has alarmed and terrified the traitors; it has opened up new means for hastening the termination of the war by increasing our facilities for attack, and for sustaining the Union men of the South, some of whom are already flocking into the captured forts to assure our soldiers of their desire and determination to sustain the National Government.

SECESSION NOISE.—The Louisville "Journal" says: "One secessionist makes more noise than a dozen Union men. He is criminal. His powers and energies are perverted to mischief and wickedness. He curses Lincoln, he curses the Stars and Stripes, he curses Lincoln's guns, Lincoln's army, Lincoln's Government; but if he has a lot of mules, or other army supplies for sale, and can sell them to one of Lincoln's contractors, he jumps at Lincoln's money.

MARS AND MATRIMONY.—The Austrian Government opposes the Marriage of the Junior officers of its army, and after one sixth of the officers of a regiment have been married others must apply to the Emperor for permission to wed. No pensions are granted to the widows of officers; on the contrary, an army officer desiring to marry, must deposit Government securities to the amount of $8,000 with the regimental paymaster for the support of his widow in case of his death.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune says the heavy growth of grass in some of the streets in that city 'would pay the mower for his trouble.'

☞ The Charleston papers have changed the phase "free negroes," and now call them "colored residents"—a significant change.

☞ North Carolina will be made a new military district. General Butler is spoken of as the commander.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On the arrival of the mail train on the Pennsylvania Railroad at Perryville, on Thursday last, a gentleman by the name of Frank, on descending from the platform of the cars, fell down and instantly expired. He resided at that place in the family of his son-in-law, Dr. Alter, and had been on a visit to some relatives in Perry county.

☞ Reader, have you seen Prof. Wood's advertisement in our paper. Read it; it will interest you.

☞ Even those who are in the enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventives of disease. We are never too well armored against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to."—Such an invigorator they may find in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—a medicine that cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system. At this season, particularly, the strongest man is not proof against the malaria, in certain sections of the country. In all cases of fever and ague, the BITTERS is more potent than amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the Hostetter Bitters professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment, we cordially recommend an early application to the Bitters, whenever they are stricken by diseases of the digestive organs. ☞ Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

☞ We take great pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator, in another column of our paper. It is seldom we take any notice of patent medicines, but we cannot refrain from speaking of this Cordial, and do justice to the afflicted as well as ourselves. We have watched the progress of this Cordial since its first introduction to the public, and we are satisfied that there is nothing in use for cleaning the system and renovating the blood, that can be compared with Prof. Wood's Cordial.—Any one suffering from general debility, after using one bottle will see its beneficial effects. We have a long acquaintance with the proprietor, and know him to be skilled in the science of medicine; and anything compounded by him the public can rely upon as being just what it is recommended. We would advise all sick or well to get a bottle. It is pleasant to the taste, and exhilarating to the system. But we refrain from further comments, as any one, after using one bottle, will be satisfied as to its effects.

A Card to the Suffering.

The Rev. Wm. Cosgrove, while laboring as a missionary in Japan, was cured of Consumption, when all other means had failed, by a recipe obtained from a learned physician residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has cured great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these disorders.

Desirous of benefitting others, I will send this recipe, which I brought home with me, to all who need it, free of charge. Address

☞ THE GREAT CLOTHING EMPORIUM OF THE UNION.—Philadelphia possesses the most splendid Clothing Emporium in the country. It is splendid as regards the palatial structure in which the immense business of the establishment is conducted, and it is equally splendid in respect to its great facilities and vast resources. But to its patrons its chief attractions are, first, the elegance of the garments for Gentlemen and Youths, manufactured there; secondly, the beauty and durability of the materials, and the superior excellence of the fit, and lastly the moderate prices at which the goods are sold. We refer, in this description, to none other than the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut St above Sixth, Philadelphia.

☞ As our readers know, it is not often we notice a patent medicine of any kind, but there is something so good in the Restorative Cordial of Prof. Wood, and it is so pleasant withal, that we step aside from our usual practice to recommend this scientific tonic Cordial to our readers. It will no doubt do all that is claimed for it. The name and world-wide reputation of the inventor is a sufficient guarantee for that, but we have tried it, and know it will exhilarate and strengthen by toning up the weakened organs, and enabling them to perform all their functions. Reader try it, and we fear not your verdict. See advertisement.

☞ We invite special attention to the advertisement of Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator, in another column. For weakness and general debility there is nothing like it; it will strengthen, exhilarate, create an appetite at once, regulate the bilious system, aid digestion and in short, restore the weakened organs to all their original vigor and strength. So valuable a Tonic Cordial should be in the hands of every invalid and in every family. Reader, try it.

TO OUR PATRONS.

Kind patrons, it is a long time since we have addressed you on the money subject, and we feel sure that the files of our paper will bear us out in the assertion that we have dunned less in the last three years, than any other publishers in the country. In fact we have but once asked, through our paper, for money in that time. The reason is, because we do not like to be "dunned," consequently we do not like to dunn others. But we now want money for a particular purpose, and if our patrons who are in debt for subscription, advertising and job work, will pay up, we will have enough to accomplish our purpose, and that purpose will be beneficial to our subscribers and patrons as well as ourselves. Now we don't want one of our patrons to withhold the amount of his indebtedness thinking that all the rest will pay up and it will make no difference about his mite. If this be the case we shall not succeed. We want all that is due us. If our desires are acceded to, promptly, we shall effect our purpose by the first of October, at which time we shall extend an invitation to our patrons that will astonish them. We are in earnest, friends, and if you come up as you should, we will, at the time appointed, show you something never before seen in this section of the country. Your bills are all made out, so there need be no delay.

BLAIR COUNTY REGIMENT.—Col. Wm. G. Murray, of Hollidaysburg, has been authorized to raise a regiment for the war, and desires to have it filled as early as possible. His abilities for the position are referred to in the communication from Hollidaysburg, in another column. Our young friend, Pat. Walsh, is now enlisting men for a company styled the "Murray Guard," which is to be attached to this regiment. We should like to see the men from Blair county go together in companies and regiments, if possible, as we would then know how many men the county has furnished, and if they obtain credit, the county they represent will receive a rightful share of it. Many who have enlisted from this county are scattered here and there in companies and regiments throughout the State, and some out of it. From all accounts, those who went out of the State to find a regiment did not fare very well. Better enlist at home, boys, under Captains and Colonels that you know.

☞ Captain Hamilton's Cavalry Company, which was formed in this and Huntingdon counties, did not enter Young's Kentucky Regiment, as was intended, but disbanded at Washington city and the men from this county went into one of the companies of the District of Columbia Volunteers. Lieut. J. M. Clark of this place has been appointed 1st Lieutenant of the company and James W. Rigg 2d Lieutenant. Lieut. Rigg is now in this place recruiting for the company and desires to obtain 30 men. As the District volunteers are immediately under the control of Congress, it is likely that those who enlist in companies and regiments formed therein will be well provided for.

TEACHERS FOR THE WAR.—Who will go? A company of Teachers is forming for Col. Irwin's Regiment and a strong delegation from Blair county is expected. Let the expectation be exceeded, even. Let every Teacher constitute himself a Committee to forward to the County Superintendent, or to John Dean, the names of all whom he knows will enlist. The Lieutenancies are to be given to the counties furnishing most men. A. G. DICKEY, of Lewistown, Pa., Captain.

MORE BOQUETS.—Our "carrier" desires us to tender his thanks to Miss H. for sundry splendid nosegays presented to him during his weekly peregrinations. Also, to the little Miss who visited our office on Saturday last, gayly attired in Union costume, with a magnificent bouquet "for the little boy who carries the papers." Rest assured, girls, your memories are indelibly engraved on the tablets of Sammy's heart.

THE BLAIR COUNTY SHARP-SHOOTERS.—This "crack company," under command of the gallant Capt. Dick Crozier, is now at Camp Rapp, Washington City, and we are authorized to say that there is still room in the ranks for a few more good men. This is an independent rifle company, and presents a splendid opportunity for the hardy sons of Blair to distinguish themselves in the service of their country.

☞ Hon. L. W. Hall left for the West on the Express train yesterday morning, to be absent for three or four week. He intends visiting Kentucky and Missouri, we believe.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES.—We notice that Thaddeus Banks, Esq., of Hollidaysburg, is an Independent candidate for the Legislature.—Francis McCoy, of the same place, and Wm. A. Fluke, of Williamsburg, are Independent candidates for Sheriff. Enos M. Jones, of this place, is on the same ticket for Prothonotary, and W. H. Percival, of this place, is a candidate for Coroner, irrespective of party.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Sept. 7, 1861.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We (in this community) feel partially the effects of the present war that is now agitating our Nation, in the unusual depression of business of all kinds. There are, it is true, some little doing, but scarcely enough to furnish employment to half of those in this community whose dependence is upon their daily labor. I am sure that, had the laboring men their wishes gratified, it would be that the war would speedily end. As they look forward to the approaching winter, their hearts no doubt sicken at the dreary prospect now before them—their families dependent upon them, and they out of employment. May we not at present, take their wish as our own, and heartily desire for the speedy close of the war.

Watson, Denniston & Co.'s furnace is still in operation, but will "blow out," I believe, as soon as they have used their present stock of material. I do not know whether this stoppage will be for a brief period or not, but should they stop for any length of time it will throw out of employment quite a number of men, whose only dependence is their daily labor.

The repairs to the Chimney Rock Furnace are still going on, and I hear it intimated that the proprietors intend starting it. Should they do so, it will no doubt make our town somewhat more brisk.

The war is the continual topic of connersation, at all times and in all places.

Our townsman, Col. Wm. G. Murray, has been authorized to raise a Regiment of Volunteers. The Col. is well known in this section of the country, and will no doubt speedily rally to the support of that "Old Flag" quite a number of the young and brave sons of "Little Blair."—His military abilities have been tested—he has seen service in the late war with Mexico—in which he was promoted to the position of 1st Lieutenant, in the 11th Regiment of Infantry in the U. S. Army. True, should we lose him as a citizen, we will feel assured that our country has in her defence a brave and noble son. His Regiment is to be camped near Huntingdon.

Capt. R. L. Horrell, of this place, is at present engaged in raising a company to enter Col. Murray's Regiment. Capt. H. is in every respect fully qualified to command a company, having been connected for some time with the Juniata Rifles, previous to their entering the three months service. He is now ready to take the names of any who are willing and anxious to enlist in the defence of their country.

We are pleased to notice the appointment of another of our citizens, Alex. M. Lloyd, as Commissioner of Subsistence for Volunteers, with the rank of Captain. Capt. L. served his country during the late three months campaign, as Captain of Co. H, 3rd Penna. Regt., in a manner reflecting great credit upon himself, and should he accept the appointment, we are confident he will discharge the duties in a manner as highly creditable.

Local items of interest are very scarce consequently I am obliged to be brief in this letter.

OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP RAPP, WASHINGTON, D. C., September 2d, 1861.

MESSRS. MCCUM & DERN:—Gentlemen—Here we are at last, safely quartered in camp at the City of Washington. About four months past, we started for this place, and were only prevented from arriving here at that time, simply because we could not do so, by reason of a superior force arrayed against us. Now, things are different. This time we were permitted to proceed on our journey without the least resistance. On Thursday afternoon I arrived in Harrisburg and soon after joined the company, then quartered in Camp Cameron, about 1½ miles from the city. This camp consisted of a few men, portions of companies, under Capt. Hicks, another under Capt. M'Anally, also Capt. Wayne, and one or two other smaller squads, all endeavoring to fill up their respective companies before proceeding to Washington City. Our company started for this place on Friday, the day following. We arrived in Baltimore the same evening about 7 o'clock. On passing through the streets, on our way to the Washington depot, we were frequently greeted with hisses, but no attempt was made at violence. One of the boys allowed they were afraid to attack our company. After waiting at the depot all night for cars, we were enabled to start on our way to this great centre of attraction about 8 o'clock on Saturday morning. After partaking of a soldier's dinner at the depot, we started to camp, which is just at the edge of the city. There are none but Col. Black's men here, consisting of ten companies of the line and two flanking companies, including ours, numbering in all over 1,100 men. Col. Black seems to have conceived a favorable opinion of the "Sharp-Shooters," and assures us that we shall realize our full expectation—that we shall receive, in a day or two, our rifles, with sword bayonets and accoutrements. He also says that he intends us to act as a flanking company of skirmishers to his regiment. So far as I am informed in regard to the drilling qualifications of the men here, it is my opinion that Company M, under command of Capt. Crozier, is the best drilled company in the camp. That advantage is, perhaps, owing to the fact that our company is composed of three-months men. We have already received our blankets and overcoats, and hourly expect the rest of the clothing. As soon as we are properly equipped we expect to start for Fort Corcoran, about 7 miles from this place, in Virginia. We are composed of a set of first-rate, "gay and happy" fellows, and I have every confidence in our ability to do full justice to our patriotic calling. So far as I am capable of judging, Company M is composed of about the same material the "Juniata Rifles" were in the three-months service—we had some cowards then, and I think we have some now; however, time and experience will demonstrate that.

To-day my friend and I took a stroll into the city, and the first place we found ourselves was at the Patent Office. We were completely mystified and astonished by the rare and curious objects that there met our gaze, and it is useless to attempt a description, as we could neither enumerate the one thousandth part of the articles, nor describe any we could enumerate; suffice it to say, there is an abundance of material for the most profound and contemplative mind for years of study.

On Sunday last my before-mentioned friend and I took a walk about 3 miles out the Park-road, viewing the different encampments on the road, when we encountered one of our old members of the "Rifles." He told us he was attached to a company of cavalry, from Milesburg, and insisted on us accompanying him to camp and partaking of his hospitality. We did so, and I assure you, gentlemen, we enjoyed ourselves in truly soldierly style.

Well, Messrs. Editors, my time is short and my experience is brief, and as I have mentioned about all I can, I am necessarily compelled to close. For the information of persons writing to members of our company or regiment, I would say to them, direct your letters as follows: Care of Capt. Crozier, Company M of Col. Black's Regiment, 2d Scott Legion, P. V.

Very Respectfully Yours, &c. BLAIN.

AN INCIDENT AT CRESSON.—An affecting Incident took place at Cresson the other day on the occasion of the arrival of the train bearing Gen. Lyon's remains. The moment the cars stopped, General Anderson most unexpectedly appeared on the train, and shook hands with the escort. He said he was stopping at Cresson, and could not allow the occasion to pass without taking a final farewell on earth of the remains of so brave a soldier and excellent officer as Gen. Lyon. The General then passed on to the coffin, and, bending his head above it, said with a trembling voice: "We could ill afford to spare so courageous a soldier at this time. America needs all her heroes now." As Gen. Anderson was leaving the car, Mrs. Plummer, wife of Capt. Plummer, U. S. A., one of the escort, and wounded at Wilson's Creek, rose from her seat, saying she would be most happy indeed, to know the hero of Fort Sumter. The General cordially grasped her hand, and gallantly replied, pointing to the Captain: "You need not seek, my dear Madame, to know heroes when you have so brave a one in him you have chosen for your husband!"

MARRIED.

At the Lutheran Parsonage, in this place, May 11th, 1859, by Rev. Jacob Stock, THOMAS S. CUNNINGHAM, U. S. Navy, to Miss KATE J. WIDENSALL, formerly of Hollidaysburg.

Our readers will no doubt imagine that the cake accompanying the above notice, which we received last week, has been a long time on the way, if it was forwarded at the time the marriage took place. Be that as it may, it was just as fresh and delicious as though it had been newly baked. In return, we hope that the feelings which prompted the union of our young friends may ever remain unchanged and that they may live long to enjoy each others society.

DIED.

Near Williamsburg, on the 31st ult., JAMES H., son of Joseph and Margaret R. Ake, aged 9 months and 21 days.

At his residence, in Catharine township, on Tuesday, 3d inst., Mr. HUGH FERGUS, aged 67 years and 6 months.

In this place, on the 5th inst., of Typhoid Fever, JOHN, only son of John W. and Mary Hooper, aged 2 years, 10 months and 3 days.

Little Johnny slumbers sweetly
In his lonely, narrow bed,
Pelting storms and howling tempests
Cannot reach his little head.

Sweet affection drops a tear
O'er the place where Johnny lies;
Angels whisper "look up yonder!"
Pointing upward to the skies.

Put away his little play-things—
Yonder lies his little whip,
On the table his little whistle,
Oft he pressed it to his lip.

On the window lies his primer—
So the chair on which he sat;
On the nail in yonder corner
Hangs alone his little hat.

Oh! remove these sad mementoes,
Lay them carefully away;
Christ be thou our consolation
In this dark and gloomy day!

PROF. O. J. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
AND BLOOD RENOVATOR.
IS precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all.
So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted so as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. As a sure preventive and cure of
CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, FAINTNESS, NERVOUS IRRITABILITY, NEURALGIA, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, MELANCHOLY, NIGHT SWEATS, LANGUOR, GIDDINESS, AND ALL THAT CLASS OF CASES SO PEARFULLY FATAL, CALLED FEMALE WEAKNESS, AND IRREGULARITIES.
THERE IS NOTHING ITS EQUAL.
Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidney, or any general derangement of the Urinary organs.
It will not only cure the debility following CHILLS and FEVER, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked.
Travelers should have a bottle with them, as it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water.
As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits.
Ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it.
Mothers should use it, for it is a perfect relief, taken a month or two before the final trial, also will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety.
There is no mistake about it.
THE CORDIAL IS ALL WE CLAIM FOR IT!
MOTHERS TRY IT!
And to you we appeal, to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave, rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business, that if it were not for you, they too, would travel in the same downward path until it is too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BLOOD RENOVATOR as the remedy which should always be on hand in time of need.
O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market Street, St. Louis. Price $1 per bottle.

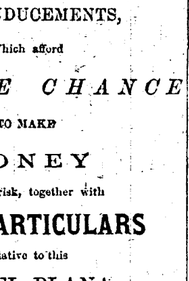
JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!



I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one to fit me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

PROF. L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections at the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled glow and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being.

per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

Wholesale Depot, 55 Bey St., and sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the world.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity.

I also desire to present to the American Public my

New and Improved Instantaneous
LIQUID HAIR DYE

which after years of scientific experimenting I have brought to perfection. It dyes Black or Brown instantly without injury to the Hair or Skin, warrasted the best article of the kind in existence.

LABOR-SAVING WASHING MACHINE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING purchased the right for Blair county, of

are now manufacturing them at Altoona, and intend to supply them to those persons throughout the county who desire a LABOR-SAVING MACHINE.

This machine is got up on an entirely new principle, and is considered, by those who have seen it in use, the best that has ever been brought before the public.

Among the many advantages of this machine over all others may be mentioned the following:

1st. Its simplicity of construction, making it almost impossible to get out of order.

2d. Its speed, which astonishes alike the operator and the looker on.

3rd. The facility with which it adapts itself to the bulk or quntity of clothes desired to be washed.

4th. It washes equally well the finest and lightest fabric or the coarsest and heaviest, such as bed-quilts, comforts, blankets, &c.

McMINN & DERN,
Altoona, Blair County, Pa.

We the undersigned, hereby certify that we are now using Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine and are fully satisfied that it is a very excellent article of the kind; combining as it does great speed with little labor, and performing its work in the most satisfactory manner. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to all who desire a real labor-saving washing machine.

HAT & CAP EMPORIUM,

JESSE SMITH, Proprietor.

ALL THE LATEST STYLES OF HATS and CAPS constantly on hand. It is the determination of the proprietor of this Emporium to keep up with the times and fashions, and to do this he spares no expense. He has just received his supply of among which will be found styles and qualities to suit the tastes of old or young, plain or fashionable.

To give the names, colors, qualities and styles of all his goods in this line, would only confuse the reader, and he would not then understand or appreciate the diversity and magnitude of his stock. It must be seen to be believed.—Go and see Jesse if you want to see a live hatter and a fashionable stock.

He has also a fine assortment of CHILDREN'S HATS and FLATS, to which he invites the attention of solicitous mothers. At his store they will find something which will excel all their neighbors in the way of fashion and beauty. Go, mothers, and examine and select from Jesse Smith's stock.

ALL THE STANDARD PATENT MEDICINES AT 1-tf. KESSLER'S.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINE HAVES NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss or Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines, was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description:—Kings Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
